Work Summary

The team has completed several UI features for the application and have begun to work on several other features. After spending some time working on the application, the team has begun to get a better grasp of the scope of the project. The team had some issues with how components should be organized, but is steadily developing better processes to organize how the components should be integrated together for the final product.

Unfinished Work

The unfinished work that is apparent thus far is listed in the Kanban board/list of issues. These issues include: server API, database, Contact us page, About us page, User menu, Registration page, Service component, Media page, chat messaging, Giving page. It is suspected that not all features will reasonably be completed for production. Therefore, the team is currently focusing on features that are considered a priority and have faster turnaround times.
